UK STANDARD LIBRARY CATEGORIES

INTRODUCTION

The UK Standard Library Categories form a set of headings developed by BIC as part of its e4libraries project. These UK Standard Library Categories are an adaptation of the full BIC scheme of Standard Subject Categories and Qualifiers, and revisions to the latter will in future consider the needs of both the library and trade communities.

The BIC Standard Subject Categories and Qualifiers form a well-established standard classification scheme. Used throughout the UK book trade, the scheme provides a comprehensive hierarchical listing covering non-fiction subjects and fiction genres, plus qualifiers covering place, language, time period, educational purpose, interest age/level and special interest.

The UK Standard Library Categories cover the full range of adult, children's and teenage stock. They are included in the Nielsen and BDS databases, supported in MARC 21 and QUOTES, endorsed by major library suppliers, and promoted by the National Acquisitions Group as a national standard.

Adopting the UK Standard Library Categories offers many benefits. They can be used to facilitate the evidence-based assessment and benchmarking of stock supply, demand and performance. They support standardised servicing and supply specification, reducing the complexity and cost of processing and selection. On the library shelf, they provide the basis for a logical and user-friendly display of stock, scaleable for different sizes and type of library. Most significantly, they underpin improvements in access to library stock, facilitating on-line browsing by subject and genre using the 'search, discover, refine' methodology familiar from on-line retailers like Amazon, Tesco or Marks & Spencer, and supporting personalised reader recommendations, regional and national catalogue initiatives, and links to retail sites.

The UK Standard Library Categories provide a range of title-level descriptors reflecting interest age/reading level, subject, genre, booktype, audience and treatment. Where more than one BIC code has been assigned to a title, the UKSLC denoting subject, genre or booktype is mapped from the primary code, i.e. that first cited in the string. Any further UKSLCs are mapped in accordance with the rules set out below, and typically take account of supplementary BIC Categories or Qualifiers. In theory, the maximum number of UKSLCs applicable to any one title varies between different categories of stock as follows: Adult Non-Fiction (3), Adult Fiction

(4), Early Years (1), Children's and Teenage Non-Fiction (3), Children's and Teenage Fiction (5). In practice, however, the number of categories attributed to any one title will seldom exceed three. USKLCs are cited in the following order of precedence: Age (not applicable for Adult categories); Subject or Genre or Booktype; Audience; Treatment.

Each UK Standard Library Category also has a unique two- or three-character identifying code. This code can be used to identify the UKSLC within an EDI message or to indicate a shelf location particular to an individual item of stock. When used as a shelfmark, the codes may be printed on a spine label or marked in a standard position on the flyleaf of the book. All spine labels should be produced and positioned in accordance with the NAG Guidelines for Servicing, Revision 2.

Multiple UKSLCs are designed to facilitate search and retrieval. Where a title carries more than one UKSLC, user-defined mapping rules will govern which category (or categories) is used to produce the shelfmark, subject to the three-line limitation of the spine label itself. Items may also be mapped as required to a local shelfmark.

Authorities wishing to undertake retrospective conversion of stock to the UKSLC scheme should in the first instance approach the bibliographic data agencies Nielsen or BDS for the appropriate records.

Shelf locations may be derived directly from the UK Standard Library Categories (Adult Non-Fiction). Where a simpler scheme is required, a complementary set of sixteen broad adult non-fiction subject categories is also offered. Individual items may be mapped to these shelf locations as required, allowing the organisation and display of stock to be tailored according to category, and by size and type of library.

3 CHILDREN'S AND TEENAGE

The particular demands of Children's and Teenage stock require a modified category structure. Children's and Teenage stock is subdivided initially into Early Years, Non-Fiction and Fiction sections.

- Early Years titles are categorised by booktype.
- Children's and Teenage Non-Fiction titles are categorised by age; each age category may then be further categorised by subject.
- Children's and Teenage Fiction titles are categorised by age; each age category may then be further categorised by genre.
- Additional categories reflecting treatment and audience offer further options for discovery and shelf arrangement.

Traditional Tales	YFJ Traditional (fairy tales, folk tales, myths, legends)	YTR

Shelf locations may be derived directly from these UK Standard Library Categories. Where a simpler scheme is required, mapping allows the organisation and display of stock to be tailored according to its category, and by size and type of library. Options therefore include:

- Option 1 Deriving all shelf locations directly from the UK Standard Library Categories: e.g.
- UKSLC 'Classics' is shelved under 'Classics'; UKSLC 'Traditional' is shelved under 'Traditional'
- Option 2 Mapping items from a UKSL Category to one of a smaller number of UKSLCs selected as shelf locations: e.g.
- UKSLC 'Classics' and UKSLC 'Traditional' are both shelved under 'General'
- Option 3 Combining Options 1 and 2: e.g.
- UKSLC 'Classics' is shelved under 'Classics', while UKSLC 'Traditional' is shelved under 'General'
- Option 4 Adopting a different approach for different sizes and type of library: e.g.
- central library follows Option 1, community libraries follow Option 2
 - UKSLC 'Classics' is shelved under 'Classics' in central library, but under 'General' in community libraries

- Option 5 Mapping items from a UKSL Category to a locally named shelf location: e.g.
- UKSLC 'Horror' is shelved under shelf location 'Chillers'

When used to determine shelf location, these genre-based UKSL Categories will normally appear in conjunction with an age-based UKSLC. Two shelfmarks will therefore normally be assigned: for example, F9/YSC, FT/YRO.
